Filed: May 13, 2013

Attorneys' fees and costs; stipulation of facts; award in the amount to which respondent has not objected

Dennis Woody, Woody & Falkenbach, Media, PA, for Petitioner;
Jennifer L. Reynaud, U.S. Department of Justice, Washington, DC, for Respondent.

UNPUBLISHED DECISION ON FEES AND COSTS¹

Petitioner, Marianne Archambo, filed a stipulation of facts concerning final attorneys' fees and costs in the above-captioned matter on May 2, 2013. Previously, Ms. Archambo informally submitted a draft application for attorneys' fees and costs to respondent for review. Upon review of petitioner's application, respondent raised objections to certain items. Based on subsequent discussions, petitioner amended her application to request $41,590.76, an amount to which respondent does not object. The Court awards this amount.

On May 7, 2012, Ms. Archambo filed for compensation alleging that she was injured by the influenza vaccine she received. Ms. Archambo received compensation based upon the parties' stipulation. Decision, filed April 29, 2013. Because Ms. Archambo received compensation, she is entitled to an award of attorneys' fees and costs. 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-15(e).

Ms. Archambo seeks a total of $41,590.76 in attorneys' fees and costs for her counsel. In compliance with General Order No. 9, Ms. Archambo filed a statement on May 10, 2013 indicating that she incurred no out-of-pocket litigation expenses while pursuing this claim. Respondent has no objection to the amount requested for attorneys' fees and costs.

¹ The E-Government Act of 2002, Pub. L. No. 107-347, 116 Stat. 2899, 2913 (Dec. 17, 2002), requires that the Court post this decision on its website. Pursuant to Vaccine Rule 18(b), the parties have 14 days to file a motion proposing redaction of medical information or other information described in 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-12(d)(4). Any redactions ordered by the special master will appear in the document posted on the website.

After reviewing the request, the court awards a check made payable to petitioner and petitioner's attorney in the amount of $41,590.76 for attorneys' fees and other litigation costs. The court thanks the parties for their cooperative efforts in resolving this matter.

The Clerk shall enter judgment accordingly.²

IT IS SO ORDERED.
